

Angela Livingood, PharmD, MHA, BCGP, CPHQ graduated from UNC School of Pharmacy and completed her residency in Pulmonary Medicine and Transplantation at UNC Hospitals. She has practice pharmacy in a variety of settings including large academic teaching institutions to small rural critical access hospitals. Currently, Angela works at New Hanover Regional Medical Center in Wilmington, NC as a pharmacy manager. She is responsible for regulatory and accreditation compliance for the NHRMC system. She also supports pharmacy operations at the system's pharmacies in the orthopedic hospital, free-standing ED, critical access hospital, cancer center, and infusion centers. Angela is a member of ASHP, ACHE, NAHQ, and NCAP. She has served these organizations in various capacities. Specifically related to NCAP, Angela is a member of the Heath-Systems Practice Academy. She is currently the Academy Chair and is the Academy's representative on the NCAP Board.